Tools and Materials

You only need to gather a few simple art supplies before you begin.

Start with a drawing pencil and an eraser. Make sure you also have a pencil sharpener and a ruler. To add color to your drawings, use markers, colored pencils, crayons, watercolors, or acrylic paint. The choice is yours!

How to Use This Book

You can draw any of the characters in this book by following these simple steps.

First draw the basic shapes, using light lines that will be easy to erase.

Each new step is shown in blue, so you'll always know what to draw next.

Take your time and copy the blue lines, adding detail.

Darken the lines you want to keep, and erase the rest.

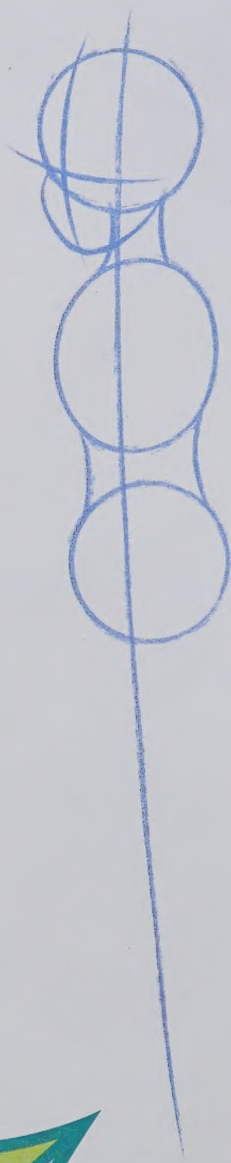

Add color to your drawing with colored pencils, markers, paints, or crayons!

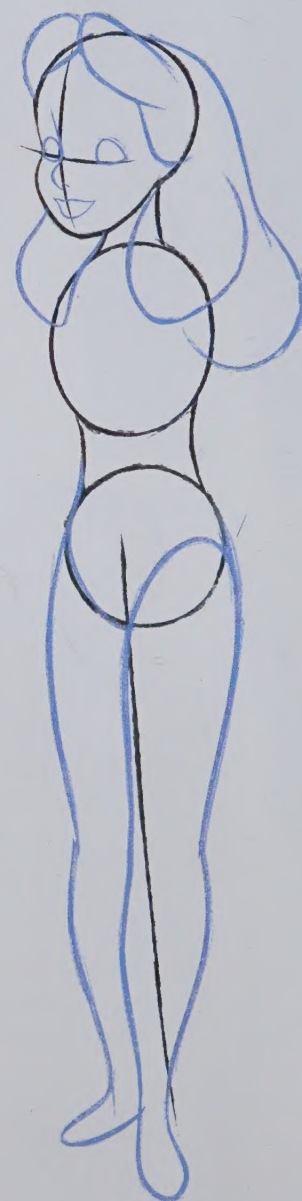

Alice

Alice lives in her own dream world, and she believes all books should have pictures in them. In her world there'd be nothing but nonsense. Nothing would be what it isn't, and what it is, it wouldn't be. You see? But as nonsensical as Alice can be, she's always polite and inquisitive as she navigates her way through Wonderland, where things keep getting "curiouser and curiouser."

The Queen of Hearts

The Queen of Hearts always looks aggravated, annoyed, and just plain mad. If she's not yelling, "Off with their heads," she's playing a frustrating game of croquet. She is a larger-than-life villain with a tiny crown. As you draw her, try to keep her proportions intact.

She carries a large heart-shaped fan

The Mad Hatter & The March Hare

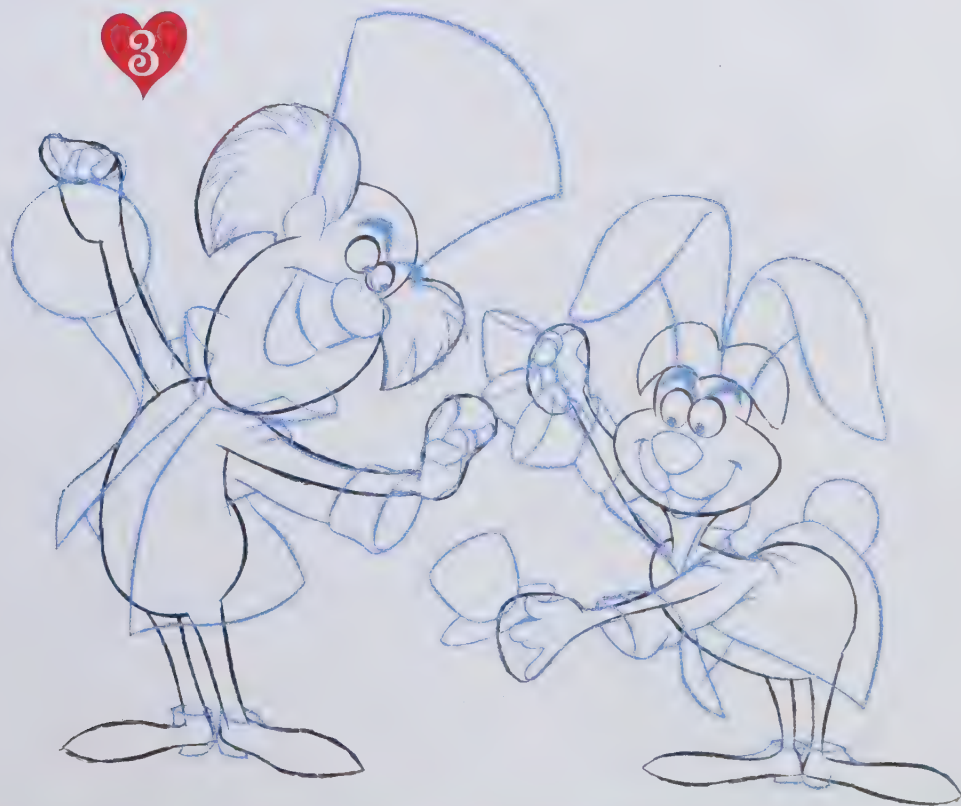

This bucktoothed duo, the Mad Hatter and the March Hare, are eccentric Wonderland residents who constantly host very merry “unbirthday” tea party celebrations. Though they are both equally mad, the March Hare is less of a gentleman and far more outspoken, saying what he wants when he wants. He has blonde hair and wears a red suit, unlike his tall and slender friend, whose tufts of white hair poke out from underneath his oversized green hat.

The White Rabbit

The White Rabbit is a nervous little fellow who sets Alice's adventure in motion when she follows him down his rabbit hole. When outside the Queen's court, he can be found wearing glasses, a waistcoat, and trousers, looking at his oversized pocket watch as he shouts, "I'm late! I'm late! I'm late!"

The Cheshire Cat

The mischievous Cheshire Cat might be the maddest resident in all of Wonderland. Purple and pink stripes cover his plump body, and he has a wide, silly grin that never leaves his face. His ability to change his shape and fade into the background is fitting, because the Cheshire Cat doesn't quite seem to be "all there." He guides Alice on her journey through Wonderland, but he often speaks in riddles, perplexing sweet Alice and occasionally leading her into trouble.

Mowgli

Mowgli is a kind-hearted Man-cub who has been raised in the jungle by wolves. When Shere Khan the tiger returns to the jungle and vows to hunt down Mowgli, the other animals want Mowgli to return to the Man-village where he'll be safe, but Mowgli would like nothing more than to stay in the jungle forever.

Baloo

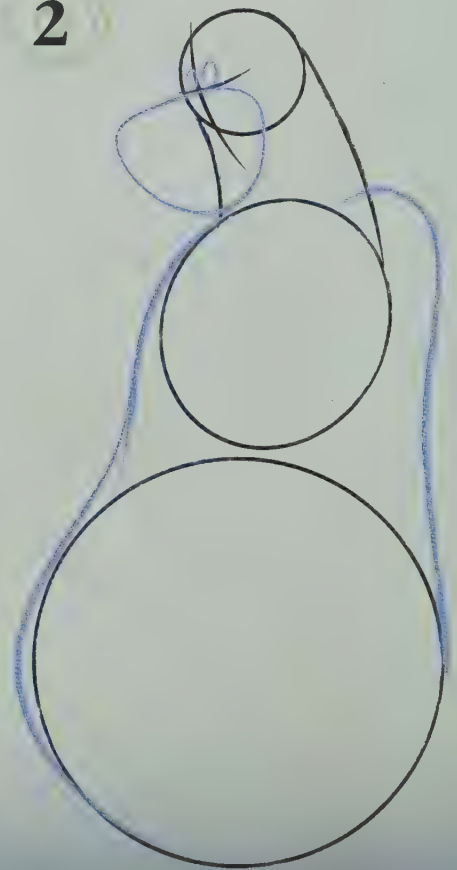

Baloo the bear is a big ol' softie who likes to lead the easy life.

With gray fur and a large belly, he is often found scratching his back on a nearby tree or dancing to the jungle beat. He and Mowgli, whom he calls "Little Britches," become instant friends. Once Baloo realizes Shere Khan is after the Man-cub, he vows to help Bagheera return Mowgli safely to the Man-village.

Bagheera

Bagheera, a level-headed and ever-wise black panther, discovers Mowgli in the jungle when he is just an infant and leaves him in the care of a gentle wolf family. Deep down, he always knew that one day Mowgli would have to return to his own kind, with people who could keep him safe. Although Bagheera often loses his patience, he's a true and loyal friend—even to Baloo.

Kaa & Mowgli

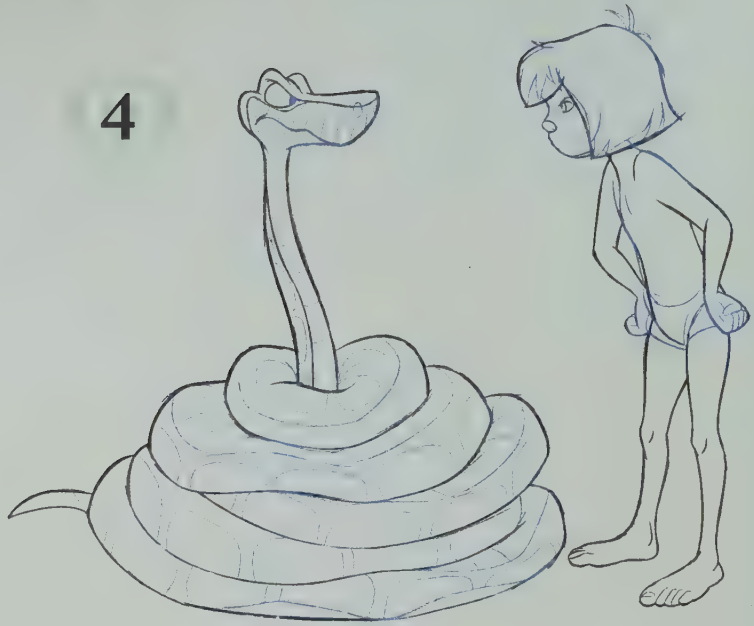

A sly python with ulterior motives, Kaa can't help but wrap Mowgli in his long coils, hoping for a delicious Man-cub snack. He uses his entrancing voice and melodic lisp to hypnotize his victims into a dream-like state. Lucky for Mowgli, the cunning python is easily distracted and a tad clumsy, and he always finds a way to escape the python's grasp.

Shere Khan

Shere Khan, a menacing but surprisingly polite tiger, is a powerful and feared jungle predator. He hates Man with a vengeance and hunts down any who step foot in the jungle. Once he hears of Mowgli, he sets out to sink his sharp claws into him before he can make it to the Man-village.

Cruella De Vil

Cruella De Vil is so obsessed with fur that she steals 101 Dalmatian puppies to make a coat out of their spotted fur. It doesn't get more evil than that! She has a striking profile, with a slender frame, pronounced jaw, and eyes full of menace.

Cruella wears a large

She wears long red opera gloves

Hair is black on her

Pongo

Pongo is a fun-loving Dalmatian who wears a bright red collar and a devoted father to his 15 puppies. And when it comes to Perdita, the pup's mother, Pongo is one suave canine. When the mean and fur-obsessed Cruella gets her hands on the pair's litter, Pongo and Perdita stop at nothing to return them safely home.

Tod & Copper

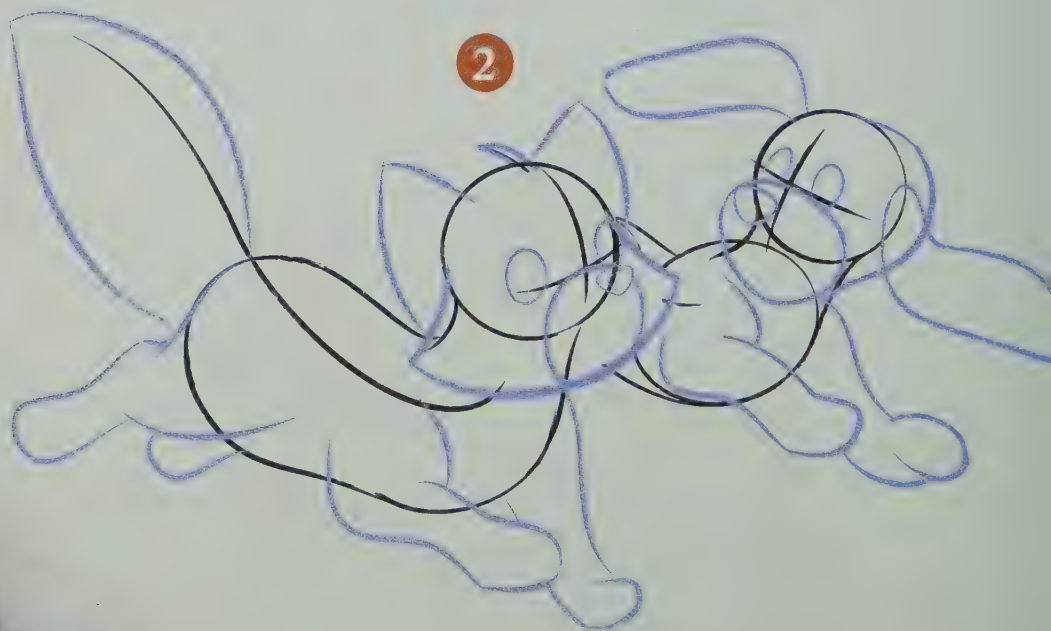

Copper the hound is an obedient and loyal young hunting dog.

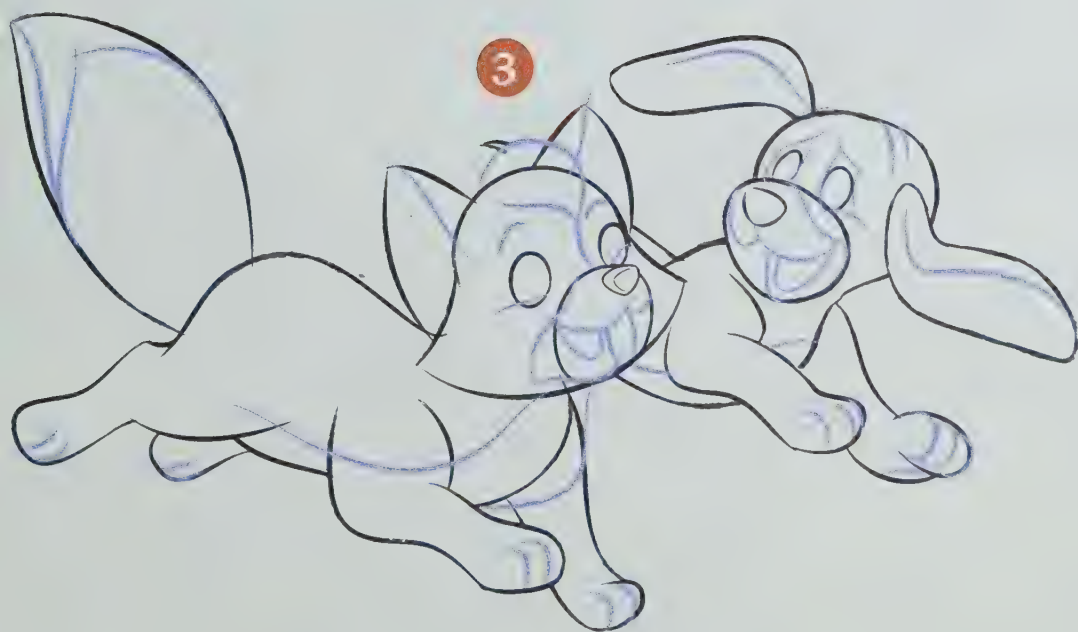

One day, he picks up the scent of Tod, a plucky orphaned fox whose been taken in by the neighbor, and the two quickly become friends, promising each other to stay that way forever.

DUMBO

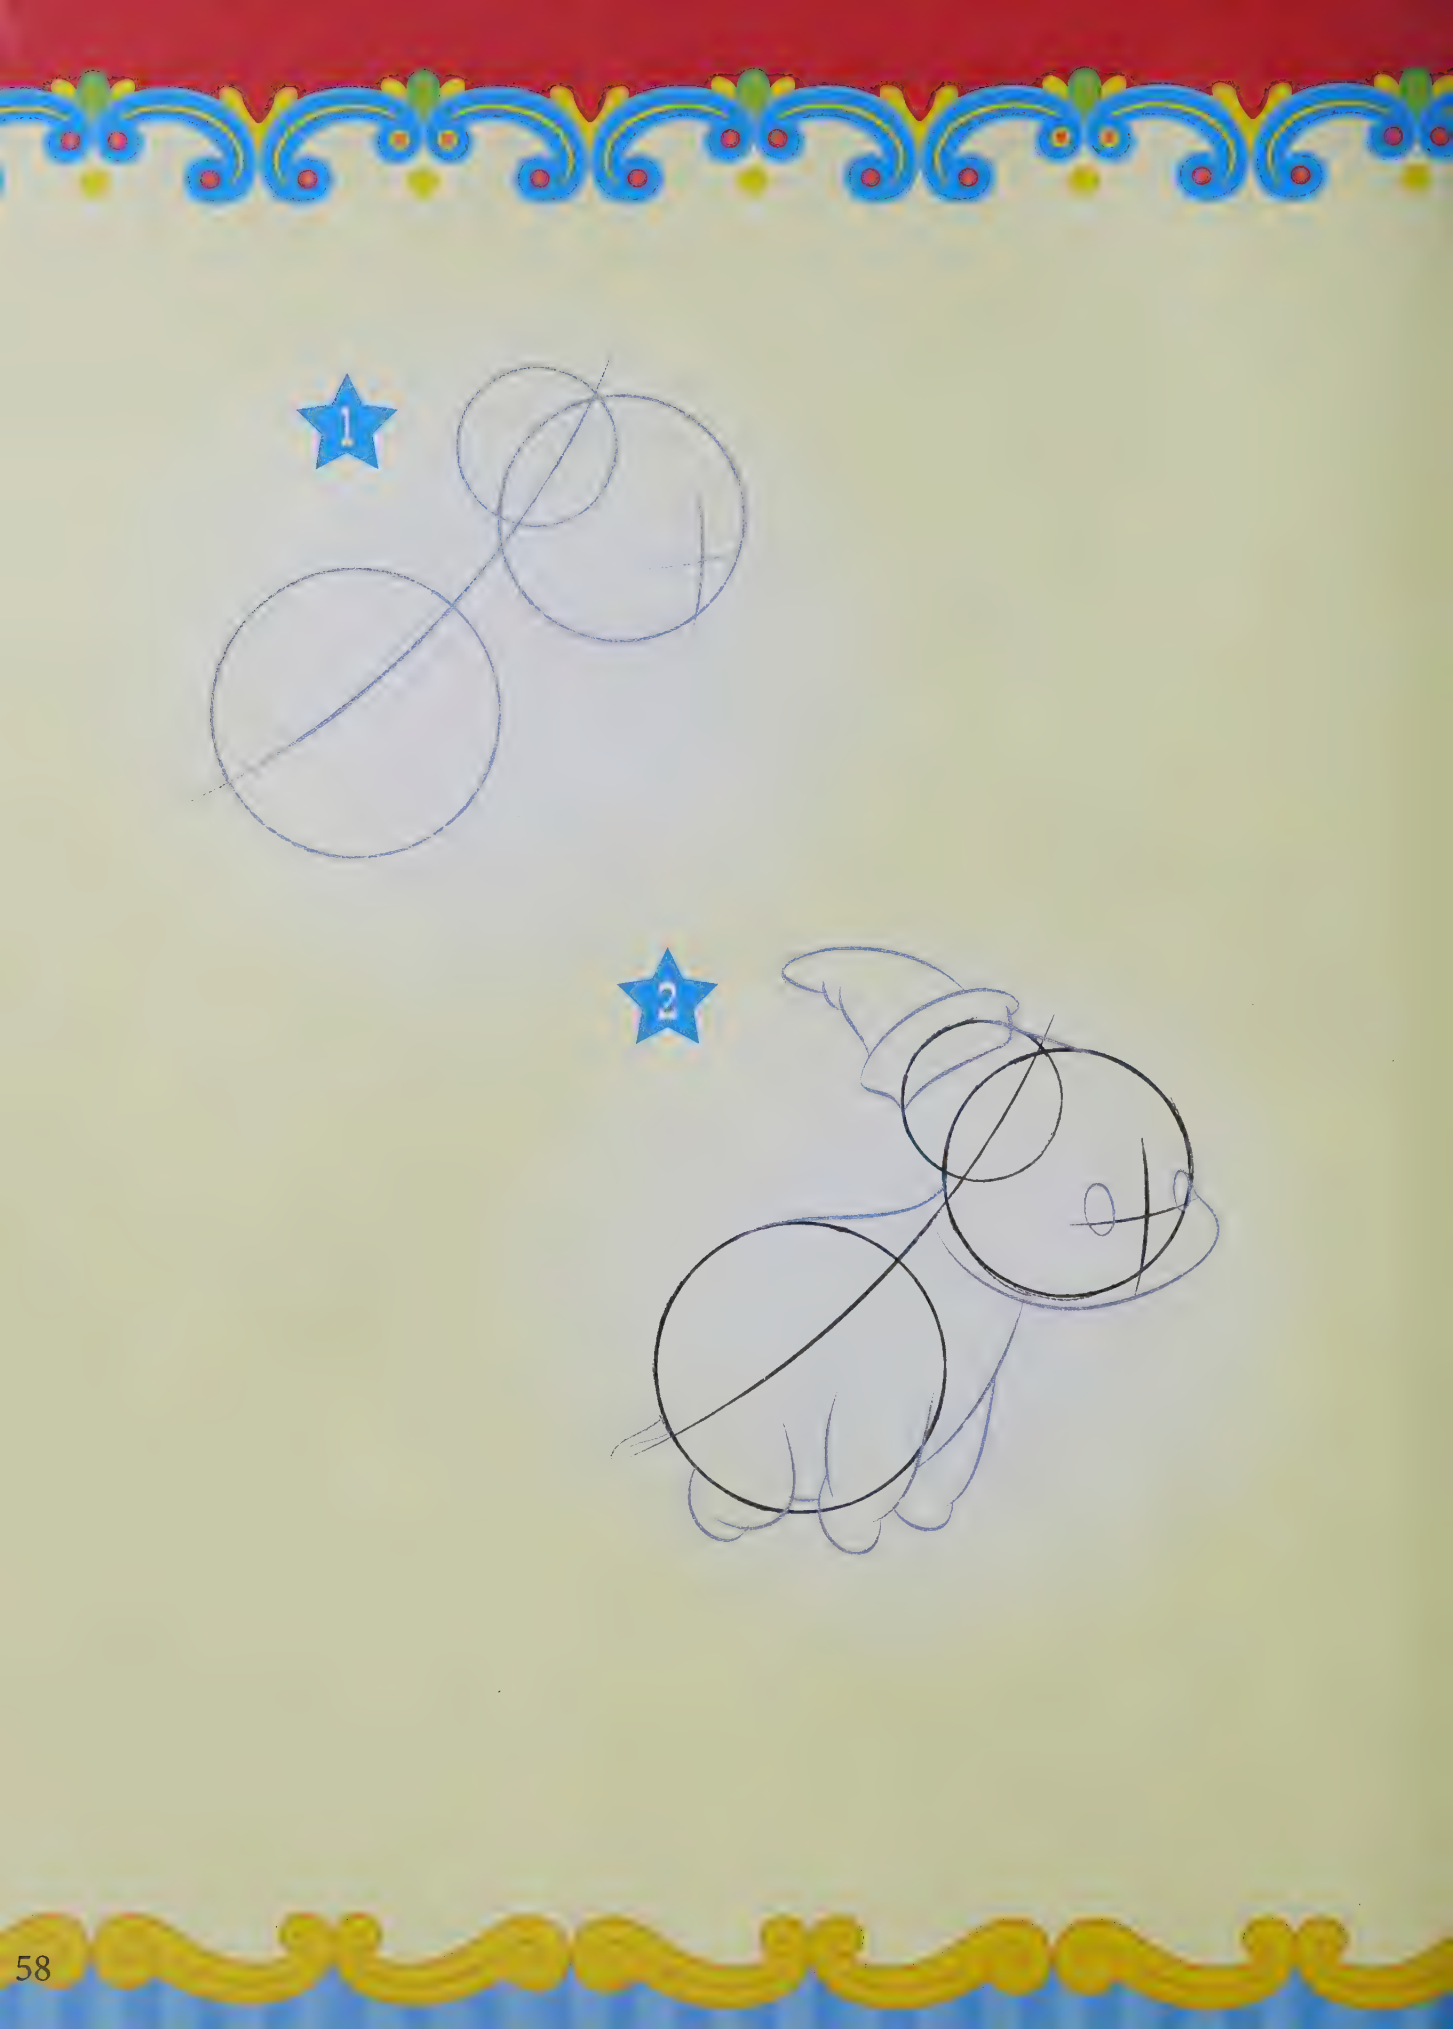

Dumbo, whose real name is “Jumbo, Jr.,” is the smallest elephant under the Big Top, but his ears are so huge that even the other elephants mock him. His mother, Mrs. Jumbo, thinks her son is beautiful, and when the kids at the circus poke fun at Dumbo, she comes to his rescue, scaring the crowd and causing them to lock her away, leaving little Dumbo all alone. That is, until Dumbo meets Timothy Q. Mouse and learns to believe in himself, using his special abilities to become the star of the circus and free his mother.

TIMOTHY Q. MOUSE

Timothy Q. Mouse wears a red circus uniform and is Dumbo's best friend. Though he's little, his heart is as big as Dumbo's ears. He's smart and brave, always speaking up for his friend and encouraging him to see just how special he truly is.
